Saddle fitting not only involves the correct fit for the horse but more importantly the correct shape and balance to enable us to ride at the best of our ability. A poor fitting or out of balance saddle doesn't hurt a horse until we add our weight and ride in it. Keeping all this in mind, it is important when you employ someone to check your horse and saddle for fit is that they have a great deal of knowledge on the subject.

A lot of saddle fitting is common sense, and a lot come from experience. This comes from years and years of working with horses, making mistakes in the process, and learning from those mistakes. Remember this profound statement; "The amount of experience you have depends on how many mistakes you have made".

Tony Flynn of Brighton's Saddleryworld together with Gary Johnson of Saddles Plus have between them a total of 29 years experience in saddle fitting and designing. Saddles they have designed include; Icon Show Saddle, KN Melodie and Rhapsodie, Riviera Monaco, Tuscany, Nice and Cannes Saumur and Hanover.

We are continually promoting research and development to improve products and make our equine companions more comfortable so they can become more willing partners.
